

GARDENIA

The Gardenia is a popular Australian plant for their gorgeous and aromatic white flowers. They have succulent and glossy, deep green leaves which are well grown in the Australian climate. The fragrant flowers can be white or yellow. Fleshy or leathery berries then follow.

Care: Plant in a sunny or partly shaded position. When in growth, mulch with good quality compost and fertilise. Water and feed well which will promote intense flowering and lush foliage.

Flowering season: The flowers are used to perfume tea, others are used to treat influenza and colds in modern chinese herbalism. Gardenia will flower, Summer, Autumn and Spring.
